A Message from NODA's President Niki Sackman

Greetings!

Spring is truly upon us! We have shed the many layers of warm clothing for a spring jacket and vest and we're riding in the evening sunshine! And the calendar is filling up with dressage shows and clinics for you to participate in.

Niki Sackman & Raina

Join NODA Youth and other members on April 17 at 4 pm

when Niki Ryder presents MagnaWave (PEMF), scientifically proven to reduce inflammation and pain in horses (and humans). Participants will be placed in a drawing for a Big Dee's gift card held for members only. Register to get a link to the MagnaWave virtual event by contacting Jennifer Cooper at Jr-YR@nodarider.org. Read an overview of the first event in NODA's Holistic Horse Series, "Massage Techniques with Mosie Welch" written by Jennifer Cooper on page 18.

Check out the member spotlights on page 4, we love when you send your photos, accomplishments, goals, and horse fun to share with other members. Please send to mosie-editor@nodarider.org.

Thanks to Mary Lou Gallagher, Technical Delegate and NODA Director at Large, for providing us a primer "Entering a Recognized Show" and just in time to get your entry in order for NODA's Dressage 2021 and Dressage 2021 Encore! See page 6.

NODA has sponsorship and advertising available at all levels for our annual recognized show weekend—two recognized shows which are both qualifiers for the USDF Region 2 Dressage Finals. Check out page 10 of this newsletter and find out how you can help NODA bring the best competition possible to NE Ohio!

NODA USEF/UDDF professional members— we value you and all that you bring to dressage in northeast Ohio and beyond! NODA would like to highlight you and your business in their annual Member Services Directory which will be printed in the May Directory AND on the NODA website through April of 2022. NEW in 2021! USEF/USDF professional members are welcome to send a photo with their entry. See page 15 to register.

We value all of our members and want to share the services you provide, each of you is welcome to register for the Member Services Directory too. Instructions are on page 14 of this newsletter.

Without our valuable sponsors and advertisers, NODA could not accomplish it's education and competition goals. Please review our newsletter advertisers on page 3 of this newsletter. Without each of them, we could not bring you the NODA News each month.

Looking forward to seeing all of you out and about this summer.

Let's make 2021 a great year! Wishing you all well,

Niki

NODA Youth Member Spotlights!

My name is Mallory Palagyi and I am 17. Outside of riding, I am in concert band and jazz band at my high school, and I am in the Summit County 4-H program.

My goal for 2021 is to be able to keep progressing with Ellie (Elita) and hopefully achieve more consistent scores in Second level. I lease Elita, a bay, 12-year-old Dutch Warmblood mare at J-Bar stables and train with Sara Justice, who owns her.

Besides showing, I enjoy riding Ellie bareback to let her relax. Ellie is such a sweet horse, who loves attention. She has really challenged me as a rider because she can be quite the diva.

Entering a Recognized Show (Simplified?)

By Mary Lou Gallagher, Technical Delegate and NODA Director at Large

As I am writing this, I can see the wind turning 6 inches of snow into a knee-high drift by my door. So why am I writing about a NODA horse show that's four months away, in June? The answer is the Covid pandemic. It ruined most of the 2020 show season and will still affect show operations for 2021. The secretary's office will remain closed to competitors. Riders who used to wait until their arrival at the show to renew their memberships or handle other entry problems will find their entry rejected. So now's the time to get all your paperwork in order.

I am starting with requirements for the horse because some things cannot be done online. All horses entered in the show must have 3 documents: a Coggins test that has to be included with the entry form, a vaccination record, and a USDF number for the horse. The Coggins must use the same name as will be found on the entry form. Vaccination records are not included with the entry but must be brought with you to the show. The Coggins test must be dated within 12 months of the show date and the vaccinations must be dated within 6 months. Schedule a vet appointment before May if either document is due to expire before June

The USDF requires a horse identification number (HID) for all horses entered into a dressage show. (One important exemption – horses entered only in Introductory and/or opportunity classes do not need a HID.) The HID number will stay the same even if the horse is later sold or upgraded to a Lifetime registration. Applications can be completed online if the horse has never been previously assigned a number. If you are an owner without a USDF number for yourself but are planning to become a member, I would suggest you go online to USDF and become a member first. Once you get your own USDF number, then go ahead and complete the horse's application for its HID. This can all be done within a week's time. Horses do not need to have a USEF number unless you plan on qualifying for regional championships. More about this later.

Matters become more complicated if you bought yourself a new horse that already has a USDF number. You will need to submit a Transfer of Ownership which cannot be completed online. The USDF lists what documents can be submitted as proof of the new ownership, but the point is that these documents have to be mailed with the transfer to the USDF office. You need to get this done as soon as possible.

Now let's talk about requirements for the humans whose names go on the entry form. Since recognized shows can be an expensive proposition, I am going to offer 3 approaches to meeting your USEF and USDF Membership Requirements: a cheap way, a reasonable way, and a "let's go for it all" way. We'll start in the middle, the way most riders take.

1. For riders who plan to attend two or more Recognized Shows and want to earn rider medals, but are not interested in qualifying for the Regional Championships, here's what you need to do.

a. Join USEF, online. Annual membership fees for the USEF are $80 while the Show Pass fee for non-members is $45 per show. Simple math will tell you that two non-member fees will cost more than the membership itself. An added bonus for amateur riders is that the USEF Amateur Card comes free with the membership—and you must have an Amateur Card to enter any class designated as "adult amateur".

b. Complete the SafeSport program. Since 2019, all members of the USEF who have passed their 18th birthday and now enter a recognized show (whether as a rider, owner, trainer and/or coach), must first complete the SafeSport program before being eligible to compete. A new member of USEF, will have to finish a core program that will take about 2 hours to complete. Participants renewing their membership will take a shorter refresher course every year. These programs can be accessed online. Google "Accessing the Required SafeSport Training" to find detailed information for both the core and refresher modules.

c. Join NODA (or any of the other Group Member Organizations of the USDF) Part of your NODA membership fees pay for a USDF Group Membership (a USDF requirement). This group membership allows you to participate in USEF/USDF recognized shows without paying a USDF non-membership fee ($25 per show). Group members can still submit their scores for the USDF Rider Award programs such as Rider Performance awards or the Bronze Medal. Make sure that you join NODA now. You won't have an active membership until your NODA membership is forwarded to the USDF office. Don't wait until May.

d. Apply for a USDF HID for your horse. You will not need any USEF number for the horse.

e. Owners and Riders. If you are not the owner of the horse you are showing, then the owner must have the same USEF/USDF memberships listed above (or pay the non-member fees) and the horse must have a USDF HID in the name of the actual owner. If two or more people own the horse, only one of the owners must be a member to avoid paying the non-member fees. When filling out an entry form, make sure you list the owner who is the member.

2. For those riders who plan to ride in the Regional Championships, things become more complicated and expensive. ("Let's Go For It All!")

a. Join the USEF. Non-members may not attempt to qualify for Regionals.

B. Complete the USEF SafeSport program. See above

c. Apply for a participating membership in the USDF. A group membership does not make you eligible to qualify. You can sign up online and your membership number will remain the same as your group membership

d. Get a USDF lifetime registration for the horse. If your horse already has a HID, then you only have to pay for the upgrade. The horse number itself will remain the same—just the status has changed.

e. Get either a USEF Annual or lifetime recording for the horse. Some horses may have a free USEF HID but it won't let you qualify for regional championships.

f. Owners and Riders. The owner must have the same level of USEF/USDF memberships as the rider to qualify the horse for the regional finals. The owner must also have the horse listed with both the USEF and USDF in his/her name.

g. Regional Championships. If you had not originally planned to qualify for the Regionals and later change your mind, you can always apply for the USDF participating membership on line as well as upgrade your USEF and/or USDF HID numbers. This can be done online, but scores earned previously to the membership upgrade will not count for qualification.

3. Opportunity Classes. A relatively cheap choice now exists for the riders who do not want to spend lots of money this year but want the chance to participate in the recognized shows. The way to avoid membership and/or HID fees would be to sign up for only Opportunity Classes. Shows in our area will generally be offering opportunity classes each day at Introductory, Training Level, and First Level. These classes must have the word "Opportunity" in the title. When you enter only these classes and/or the USDF Introductory (Walk-Trot) classes, you are exempt from all non-member and horse registration fees. The downside of the Opportunity classes is that the results will not count for any USEF or USDF award programs. The NODA Board, however, has voted to allow these scores to be used for schooling show awards.

Memberships and horse registrations can be confusing. Hopefully this article has helped you complete your entry form in time for the opening day of entries.

News and Updates from Karen Puchalsky
NODA's Dressage Foundation GMO Liaison
www.dressagefoundation.org

Before I became the NODA Delegate for The Dressage Foundation, I admit I knew little about the organization. I thought it might be helpful if I shared information about The Dressage Foundation and how this organization helps support the dressage community.

The Dressage Foundation was established in 1989 by Lowell Boomer, who was also the founding organizer of the United States Dressage Federation (USDF) in 1973. The mission of The Dressage Foundation is to cultivate and provide financial support of the advancement of dressage in the United States.

For over 30 years donors have generously provided funds to create a better dressage community. Grants are available for riders of ALL ages and levels, new or seasoned dressage instructors, judges of all ranks, nonprofit organizations hosting educational events and much more.

Grants include FEI/High Performance, Educational Events, Adult Amateurs, Youth & Young Adults, Instructors, Judges, Para-Equestrians, Technical Delegates, Show Management, Breeders, and Century Club grants.

Please take a few moments and go to The Dressage Foundation's website www.dressagefoundation.org to learn more about this amazing organization and how you can benefit from their programs and grants.

Enjoy the sunshine! Karen

Dear Valued Members, Friends and Supporters,

Northern Ohio Dressage Association (NODA) has organized and hosted annual USDF/USEF Recognized horse shows in our area since 1988. After canceling last year we are very excited to be back for 2021. Dressage 2021 and Dressage Encore 2021, will be held on June 26th and 27th at Pure Gold Stables and Equestrian Center, Salem Ohio and NODA needs your help.

As in the past, Dressage 2021 and Dressage Encore 2021 competitions are licensed and recognized by the United States Equestrian Federation (USDF) and the United States Dressage Federation (USEF). This means that qualifying scores can be earned for the USDF Regional Championships.

This year more than ever before we will need your help in covering our show expenses. We are offering a wide range of sponsorships and advertising opportunities at all levels to meet your unique needs as an individual, business and organization.

- We offer the affordable Red Ribbon level in your name, your barn's name or in the memory or Honor of a beloved horse or friend.
- You also might want to consider NODA's Gold, Silver, Bronze, or Blue Ribbon sponsorships, which provide ongoing high visibility as they reach NODA's membership and other horse enthusiasts long after the competition is over.
- This year we also are offering Big Dee's Gift Cards if you do not want to take advantage of advertising but want to be a Sponsor.
- If you don't see what you want, we can work with you to give you something that meets your needs.

It would also be helpful if you know an individual or business that may have an interest in sponsoring or advertising with NODA? Your help in sharing this letter with people who you regularly do business, and asking for their support, would be greatly appreciated. The Advertising and Sponsorship form along with additional details and a Q&A are included.

We count on your support to sustain NODA's growth and make our recognized shows a success each year. Your support also helps provide much needed funds for educational events and scholarships that benefit all members of our organization.

Thank you for your efforts in continuing to help NODA grow!

Sincerely,

Dee Liebenthal, Treasurer

Prize Money to be Awarded at Great American/USDF Regional Dressage Championships

Lexington, KY (March 5, 2021) - The United States Dressage Federation™ (USDF) and Great American Insurance Group are pleased to announce that prize money totaling nearly $200,000 will be awarded at the 2021 Great American Insurance Group/USDF Regional Championships. This prize money will be divided evenly among the nine regions and 35 divisions that are offered, allowing each region to present competitors with over $22,000 in prize money and awards. Prize money will be awarded to champions and reserve champions in each region and division. Champions will also receive an embroidered vest provided by SmartPak, official supplement feeding system of USDF, and an embroidered blanket storage bag provided by USDF. In addition to prize money, reserve champions will receive a saddle pad provided by the Great American Insurance Group, title sponsor of the championships.

"It is with great pleasure that we continue to provide recognition to these outstanding competitors through our sponsorship of the regional championship program," stated Kathy Sedlak, Great American Insurance Group Vice President of the Equine Division. "We're so pleased that through the generous sponsorship support of Great American Insurance Group, SmartPak, and Platinum Performance, that we are able to see this program continue to grow and be so well received by USDF members," adds Stephan Hienzsch, USDF Executive Director.

The Great American/USDF Regional Championships are presented by SmartPak and supported by Platinum Performance. For more information about the Great American Insurance Group/USDF Regional Dressage Championships, please visit the USDF web-site at www.usdf.org, or contact the USDF office at regchamps@usdf.org.

NODA's Holistic Horse Series

Event Overview: Massage Techniques with Mosie Welch

By Jennifer Cooper with Mosie Welch

On February 13th, NODA hosted a virtual event in the Holistic Horse Series, "Share Some Love With Your Horse this Valentine's Day," in which participants learned some basic massage techniques in hopes that participants would go home and enjoy some quality "hands on" time with their four-legged partner.

Nineteen equestrian aficionados dialed in to hear what Certified Equine Massage Therapist, Mosie Welch, also NODA's chief Newsletter Editor, had to say about how massage could help our horses and our partnerships with our horses. Our farthest audience member was a GMO member from Texas!

As participants were trickling in, Mosie asked each person what they wanted to get out of this session. Some mentioned they have sensitive horses, others wanted their horses to be able to relax especially in the neck and poll, and some said that this was a way to spend relaxing time with their horse. Mosie said that massage aids in circulation, releases tension, aids in improving suppleness over time, and is great for recovery and that massage is also a way for horses to develop trust. Massage over time will help your horse reap the full benefits, and horses who get regular massage learn to release and know when they are being prepared for massage...they start to lick and chew as she brings them out!

Mosie opened with "Massage is a great way to put your hands on your horse and deepen your connection in a way that doesn't demand perfection from your horse." To get started, think about your horse – are they stoic, relaxed, sensitive, untrusting, calm, or spooky? Prepare yourself and the horse for success by accepting them for who they are and tailor the massage session to your horse. "How a horse reacts during massage is often how a horse reacts under saddle— there is much to learn during massage." Horses should be clean with no visible mud. Find a quiet time and clear the clutter in the area in case of a spook. Have the horse cross tied or held, Mosie doesn't advocate a loose horse eating, drinking, wandering and distracted. The horse needs to focus on you and be a partner in release. You need two hands, so if you can't tie or your horse is sensitive, have someone hold them. Some tighter horses have to learn how to release – be patient with them. Be careful of what you are standing on to reach the wither and crest. Don't use a folding stool or anything the horse (or you) could get caught in if there is a spook. The first couple of times you use a new technique on your horse, the horse is learning just like you are, so start gently and find out what pressure and tension your horse likes. Always approach your horse as if tension is present and start gently—you never know when the work of the day has caused muscle tension. This may be new for you to approach your horse in this way— just practice the technique and learn as you notice your horse's reaction.

There might not be a release or at least a big one until you try a few times. But don't give up!

Mosie shared how to tell if your horse has a release. "It takes time to learn to feel tension and relaxation or release under your hands, but keep your eyes on your horse as you perform massage so you can see if they are showing signs of tension or a release and notice changes in their general mood. Even a quivering muzzle or a soft blinking eye shows relaxation." Horses can be fussy at different times during a session. Keep working through the fussiness calmly and patiently and know you've found an area of tension. It is generally followed by signs of release."

First Mosie demonstrated and explained a "Mane Pull," a myofascial release technique in which both sides of the neck are worked using the mane pull to access connective and muscle deep in the neck, back and poll. Releasing neck tension can help with a softer flexion, a relaxed poll and jaw, and better suppleness in the neck and back over time. These are all areas dressage horses need to have very soft! Mosie started at the withers by taking a handful of the mane and pulling straight upward, starting gently and increasing the pull as the horse tolerates. Add pulling the mane to the left and right of the neck and hold. Pull the mane at the wither forward toward the poll to release the back. She held each pull for thirty seconds or more. If you want results, this is not a fast process. Another neck technique is to rock the crest back and forth and move slowly from the wither up toward the poll. After working the whole neck, add a forelock pull in which you gently pull the forelock hair one way (left or right) and the mane behind the bridle path diagonally the other way, holding it for 15 – 30 seconds, release gently and switch the pull diagonally. She ended by using the thumb at the base of the ear and pulling the thumb away from the ear in all directions. Alaska did get a little fussy and then showed his appreciation with yawning, licking, checking, and dropping his head.

Next Mosie demonstrated “Cupping,” a rhythmic, percussive technique used as tolerated over soft tissue. Horses like cupping which can be used to prepare for other techniques, but many horses benefit from cupping alone. Especially mistrustful or sensitive horses. Avoid the spine or any other bone close to skin area. Take your hands and make them into a cup (See photo on page 22.) and think of bouncing off your horse making a hollow sound. Do not follow through with your hand as if striking your horse - bounce. If you have a horse with a cold back, try this technique on the long muscles of the back before riding. Also, if you have a girthy horse (I have four!) you can use cupping to desensitize the girth area before tightening the girth. The loin, obliques, abs, neck, chest, and shoulders benefit from cupping. Watch a demo of both the mane pull and cupping techniques on Mosie’s YouTube Channel at this link YouTube.

Participants asked whether standing on the massage block was scary in case the horse spooked, and if you could do this technique from the saddle? Mosie stressed safety throughout the presentation “If you have a horse that will not be comfortable with a stool, you need to work from the ground. Over time, most horses become familiarized with a block or stool - but each person must do what is safe.” In answering the question, “can you do this from the saddle?” “Massage works best “when the horse and the person massaging can focus on the release of tension. Quick stretches nose to toe or a mane pull while under saddle may be helpful and relaxing, but to receive the full benefit of massage over time, don’t leave out dedicated massage sessions.” People also wanted to know if they could ride after massage- the answer is, “only your horse can tell you that.” Horse’s that release a lot of toxins from their muscles during massage may feel sluggish the day of or the day after. A short, easy ride will clear the toxins faster, no hard work. Other horses will feel like “butter” after massage and you could take them right into the show ring. This is a case where “you need to experiment and the answer may change based on work level and muscle tension levels.”

Mosie suggested participants who are interested find a good book on bodywork and try it out! One that she recommended was Activate Your Horse’s Core by Hillary Clayton, DVM and Narelle Stubbs, PhD. It comes with a great DVD and is very helpful in explaining the anatomy of your horse and how to strengthen your horse.

NODA members in attendance were added to a Big Dee’s gift card raffle. Our winners were Jana Tuckerman and Sue Hines. Congratulations and thank you for joining us!

The Holistic Horse Series is planned and hosted by Jennifer Cooper, NODA’s r-YR liaison. It’s a series of events to expose young riders, as well as all of NODA, to health alternatives and possible future careers related to horses.

We invite NODA Youth and other members join us on April 17th at 4 pm when Niki Ryder presents MagnaWave or PEMF (see ad below), which is scientifically proven to reduce inflammation and pain. A drawing for a Big Dee’s gift card will be held for members. Upcoming events in the Holistic Horse Series include using essential oils and acupuncture. Register to get a link to the MagnaWave virtual event by contacting Jennifer Cooper at Jr-YR@nodarider.org.

Mosie Welch, Equestrian Pursuits, LLC, Certified Equine Sports Massage Therapist since 2008 provides massage and bodywork to benefit every horse; competition horses to the retiree.
