A Message from Your Editor

Hello Readers!

As I sit here writing this and finishing up 2023, Issue 1 Newsletter on the Winter Solstice, I'm waiting for the single digit weather and wondering if the massive winter storm that is brewing across the United States will hammer us here in northeast Ohio in the next couple of days. I'm grateful for the relatively mild fall, the ability to comfortably ride outside in November and December, and the good weather for trailering to lessons with Emily Gill. Let's hope winter treats us kindly and trailering remains a good option most weeks and that we all have productive winters rides.

This is the Annual Celebration and Brunch edition of the NODA News. The board upped our photography game for 2022 and I think it shows in the photographs! Many thanks to Suzanne Sherbundy for collaborating on the set up with her know how and for bringing professional equipment. The food was good and social hour was fun! The silent auction had a great selection of items to bid on thanks to Kirk Morehead who coordinated and members who donated. Even set-up was fun as we all pitched in to get things ready. You'll find lots of photos in this edition - so enjoy!

New this year! All 400+ celebration photos and the 2022 schooling show photos are in files that you can access using the links on page 4 of this newsletter until February 28. Once you access the files, just download the photos you like to your device and save them. If you use them publicly, please give Suzanne Sherbundy photo credit. We can all thank Patty Keim for making this possible.

Looking forward to 2023, NODA's schooling show, recognized shows, and education dates are listed on page 4 in News You Can Use. Start making your plans to attend now!

The Recognized Show Committee is happy to welcome the new Volunteer Coordinator Karen Puchalsky! Karen Shirring has done an amazing job over her 30+ years of managing volunteers and will be sorely missed.

It is with sadness that NODA honors the memories of Sharon Poulin and Chris Freeman in our Final Salute on our Membership page, page 26.

I hope everyone is signed up for the New Test Clinic with Margaret Freeman on January 7. It's indoors and will be very informative!

As winter grips us here in northeast Ohio, be safe, stay warm, and enjoy your time with your horse!

Happy New Year!

*Thank You ANNE MCCLINTOCK
for another fun year!*

Qualifying & showing at Sport Horse Regionals & Nationals was a thrill & we couldn't have done it without you. Your friendship & support have made me a better, more thoughtful rider. The high point of the year, however, was watching you & Bentley win First Level Open Top 10, and then the Musical Freestyle Championship at Sport Horse Nationals!!

*What a year!! Thank You Again!!

Each year, nearly $100,000 in grant funding is available to support clinics, camps, and other educational events across the USA, making the events more affordable for the hundreds of riders who participate.

Special News! For the first time ever The Dressage Foundation (TDF) has awarded a grant to a dressage club in Puerto Rico! The Hacienda Siesta Alegre Equestrian Center is a riding school that uses off the track Thoroughbreds and local paseo ponies to teach basic dressage fundamentals. Participation is growing so much that they needed two judges for their October dressage show, and to make the most of the opportunity, a clinic was scheduled for the following day. The center applied for a TDF Michael Poulin Dressage Fund grant for the clinic, which was taught by Luis Reteguz-Denizard and Corinna Scheller Fleming.

The clinic was well attended, with 14 riders from Intro to Third Level. The clinic organizer shared, There is talent here; the riders just need help and support. We are grateful to the be grant recipients."

A Growing Group

Western dressage has been gaining popularity for the past several years, and TDF is pleased to help riders in this growing group through the Lynn Palm Western Dressage Fund. When she established the Fund in 2019, Lynn said, "My goal for this Fund is for it to help grow the sport of Western dressage. I believe that education is how this can be accomplished! Dressage principles benefits all riders and horses, no matter the discipline."

Diane Davitt, an adult amateur from Florida, was a hunt seat equitation rider for many years and switched to Western riding five years ago. That led her to Western dressage and TDF's Lynn Palm Western Dressage Fund. She said, "These grants give access to many riders for opportunities that would be difficult to afford otherwise."

With her grant, Diane attended a Western dressage clinic with her horse, a 15-year-old Paint. "Western dressage is open to all. There is not 'perfect breed' for Western dressage," said Diane. "You can succeed without the million-dollar pony. I look forward to contributing to TDF so others may receive grants in the future."

Creating a Narrative for Visually Impaired Riders

In 2021, TDF was contacted by Ana O'Brien, a USEF Certified Para-Dressage Coach who works with blind and visually impaired dressage riders. Her idea to provide grants to this underserved riding population took hold, and grants from TDF's Para-Equestrian Dressage Fund were awarded to two visually impaired riders in December 2021.

Suzanne Ament was one of those deserving riders, who used her $1,000 grant to train with Michelle LaBarre, a trainer, coach, and Grade V visually impaired athlete. Suzanne said, "I am a blind rider, and since Michelle also has some vision issues, we experimented with sounds in the arena and other issues that all visually impaired riders might face.

"In addition to my training, another member of the blind equestrian community joined us and filmed much of the lessons. We hope to create a narrative to share with blind people to encourage them to try riding, but perhaps even more important, to show coaches and instructors that blind people can ride independently and well if given the proper environment."

How to Help

From backyard dressage arenas to international competitions, your donations to TDF broaden the dressage community's reach and give accessibility to more deserving riders. Please donate today!

For dressage in the United States to grow, it needs to be accessible to anyone who wants to learn. Not only are your donations helping riders reach their goals in the international arenas, but you are also providing opportunities for riders of all ages, at all levels, in every corner of the country.

Finale Salute

Sharon Rose (Ashton) Poulin

4/1/1949 -

11/28/2022

Sharon Rose Poulin of Deleon Springs, FL,
mother of NODA
member Kate Poulin,

passed away on November 28th, 2022 after a tenacious fight with metastatic breast cancer. A Dressage Professional, she earned her USDF
Bronze, Silver and Gold medals, held a USEF "S" judge's license, competed in two Olympic Sports Festivals, and trained numerous horses to the Grand Prix, Sharon would say that one of her greatest accomplishments were her students. Sharon felt especially lucky to be able to coach her two younger daughters, Kate & Gwen, throughout their own dressage careers. A memorial service will be organized and announced in the future.

Christopher G. Freeman

7/4/197—12/ 5/, 2022

Chris Freeman,
husband and father of
members Sarah

Freeman and 8-year-
old Dahlia Freeman,
passed away suddenly

on December 5. A long-time resident of the Auburn/Bainbridge community, Chris put down roots in Auburn Twp, farming with his father. He loved antique Farmall IH tractors, competing in tractor pulls and brought new life to old and tired tractors. Dahlia was the center of his world. He drove her to school every day and taught her to fish. She helped him wash the tractor and his truck, and they would paint hay wagons together. A celebration of Chris' life was held on December 11.
